Dear Ms. Rodriguez:

My name is Heather Alcott, and the purpose of this letter is to express my interest in applying for a teaching position at Education for New Generations Charter School.

As outlined in my resume, I earned my Master's Degree in Reading Education, with certification as a Reading Specialist, from Gwynedd-Mercy College. As part of my graduate coursework, I authored several literature reviews pertaining to the topic of literacy. Moreover, I designed an action research thesis relevant to literacy and at-risk, struggling readers. As a result of my coursework, I possess background knowledge in research theory and design. Additionally, through my professional and academic roles, I am capable and confident in the skill of communicating with parents, fellow faculty, administrators, and community members. As a trained Reading Specialist, I am able to work with students of every age and academic level to offer support and guidance with learning strategies that can be applied to all content areas.

Brief highlights of my professional experience include serving in the Norristown Area School District in several capacities: Project Director for 21st Century Community Learning Centers, Lead Teacher for the Before and After- School program, Reading Teacher in the district's after-school Educational Assistance Program, as well as regular classroom teaching responsibilities as a contracted reading teacher. Throughout these roles, I was responsible for professional development, peer literacy coaching, and curriculum development. Moreover, I was directly involved with the collection, analysis, and application of student data to implement effective remedial instruction for secondary and elementary school students. Essential to these roles was the ability to work as a member of a team as well as an autonomous professional.

I believe that my background, skills, and education would be an asset to the students of Education for a New Generation Charter School. I would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to further discuss my career goals and how they align with your programming. You may contact me at 215-896-7219 or via email at heatheralcott@verizon.net.

Sincerely,

Heather M. Alcott, Ed.M.

Re: Recommendation letter for Mrs. Heather Alcott

Dear Sir or Madam,

Heather Alcott has worked as a grade 5 communications teacher this year at Eisenhower Middle School as a long term substitute. She has truly been an asset to our staff since she started in September. Mrs. Alcott brings many special qualities to her position, each one adding to her success as a classroom teacher. Mrs. Alcott is patient, kind and truly involved in her students' achievement goals. Mrs. Alcott is well versed in PA Standards / Anchors, standardized assessments, differentiating instruction, data analysis, and PSSA preparation techniques. She has done a wonderful job this year in ensuring that all of her students' academic and social needs are met.

Mrs. Alcott's dedication goes beyond the regular school day. She has participated in school wide activities such as Family Reading Night, Read Across America, and The Reading Olympics, and the Science Olympics, to name a few. Mrs. Alcott also acts as our grade 5 gifted teachers servicing the grade 5 gifted students in meeting their IEP goals.

Mrs. Alcott is a dedicated teacher. Her knowledge, love of education and positive personality add a great deal to classroom and school as a whole. Mrs. Alcott has a very positive rapport with staff, parents and administrators. She is professional at all times, is organized, and has an admirable work ethic. I would highly recommend Mrs. Alcott for any teaching position. She would be an asset to any staff that she joins and I wish her the best of luck in her endeavors. If you need any additional information, please contact me at 610-270-2925. Thank you

Respectfully,

Nicole Poncheri, Principal

Dear Mrs. Rodriguez:

I am writing to you in support of Ms. Heather Alcott and her desire to become an integral part of the Education For New Generations Charter School as a teacher. I am in my seventh year of teaching at Eisenhower Science and Technology Leadership Academy (ESTLA) in the Norristown Area School District. I taught with Ms. Alcott for three years at ESTLA. Ms. Alcott and I worked very closely together on the 5th/6th grade team. We have now known each other for seven years and still speak about education even though we are no longer working professionally together.

Through my observations and from working with Ms. Alcott, she is an incredibly dedicated and hard-working teacher. Heather is organized, consistent, and patient. Heather excels at teaching reading and communication skills, and practices exactly what she teaches in her own life. Ms. Alcott seeks out resources for her students and self when needed or appropriate. When it comes to working with students, Heather uses the most appropriate methods and teaching practices depending on student need and caters her teaching to her students. One area that many teachers forget to practice is that of self-reflection. Heather, however, always reflects on lessons and her own teaching in order to run her classroom more smoothly and to reach her students academically. When needed, Heather shares those reflections with others, in order to get ideas and suggestions for modifying her lessons. She is always looking for alternative methods to better suit her class's needs.

Even though Heather has moved on from the Norristown Area School District, my respect and admiration for her kind-heart, patience, and dedication to making a difference in the lives' of all children has given us a unique bond outside of our professional environment. Heather is truly a role-model for other teachers and any teaching entity would be lucky to have her.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Andrea Parker

Dear School Administrator,

The purpose of this letter is to provide a reference for Ms. Heather Alcott. I have co-taught fifth grade with Ms. Alcott from September, 2006 to present. I have found Ms. Alcott to be respectful, pleasant and fair towards our students. Due to our work in a collaborative environment, I have first hand knowledge of Ms. Alcott's highly professional demeanor. Ms. Alcott is consistently willing to take on duties and tasks above and beyond her assigned requirements. Ms. Alcott is extremely competent and has a vast knowledge of the Pennsylvania Assessment Standards and Anchors. I have seen, as demonstrated by our students' progress, that Ms. Alcott is an effective educator. She pays close attention to aligning her lessons to the Pennsylvania Assessment Anchors. Ms. Alcott also teaches lessons that are both engaging and rigorous. Ms. Alcott is passionate about our students' success, and it is evident everyday. It has been a true privilege and pleasure to teach with Ms. Alcott, and I firmly believe that she will be an asset to your school district. If you need any further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at the following telephone number: 215-850-8202.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Heather Alcott. I have known her for over two years through our employment at Banana Republic in North Wales, Pa. Heather was hired to work with me as an assistant store manager. She quickly became my strongest manager and was responsible for the staff hiring and training. Heather has a very personable demeanor as well as the patience and thoroughness to complete the job at hand. In the world of retail, where one has to constantly fluctuate to meet the ebb and flow of customers in the store, she has proven herself to be able to assess the situation and direct staff to best accommodate customers as well as complete tasks as needed. Whenever I, as store manager, had to attend company meetings Heather was placed in charge to run the store in my absence. Upon my return, there was a complete update to week's happenings and I knew they would be honest and accurate in delivery.

Heather not only is dependable and honest, but she also has an ability to laugh at life's little hiccups and keep a positive outlook on it all. I cannot express how instrumental Heather has been to helping our store achieve a successful first year and in making my job easier as well.

Sincerely Yours,
Nadine Ober

Dear Ms. Rodriguez,

I am writing this letter to provide a reference for Andrea Parker, who is applying for a position at Education for New Generations Charter School.

I have worked with and have known Mrs. Parker for over five years. I had the privilege of being her colleague at Eisenhower Middle School, in the Norristown Area School District. I have observed Mrs. Parker to be a caring and compassionate teacher, and a professional who has strong leadership abilities. Mrs. Parker consistently performs duties above her immediate job requirements. Mrs. Parker is exceedingly knowledgeable about her content area pedagogy and has displayed a high level of skill in working with students across varying grade and ability levels. Mrs. Parker is well versed in the Common Core standards. Moreover, Mrs. Parker possesses a passion for teaching and learning, and holds her students to high standards of accountability. Mrs. Parker advocates for her students, and welcomes parental involvement. Furthermore, Mrs. Parker is flexible and adaptable with her lessons and approach to teaching.

Without hesitation, I would highly recommend hiring Andrea Parker as a teacher at Education for New Generations Charter School. Mrs. Parker will be an invaluable asset to the school.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Rodriguez,

My name is Natalie Harrington, and I am seeking an elementary teaching position open at the New Generations Charter School. I have a Bachelors of Science in Education with dual certification in Elementary and Special Education. My required documents for this position can be found attached to this e-mail and on PAREAP as well.

My undergraduate background has exposed me to a diverse community and allowed me to use technology with teachers and students. I have created interactive lessons with different computer programs. With my experience in classrooms, I have become an adaptable and responsible adult to lead our future students in society. My Extended School Year position as a Life Skills Support teacher has allowed me to establish a rhythm and schedule that kept the students from feeling overwhelmed and which made them comfortable with the instruction that was presented to them. I have helped the students achieve their maximum potential and succeed in the classroom as well as the community by differentiating their curriculum to fit their individual needs. I have created and progress-monitored IEP goals for students. My goal is to be a permanent teacher in the Lansdale community where I can cultivate an environment by using a given curriculum that I can differentiate to fit each student's diverse needs. Furthermore, I want to create a foundation in the community that promotes prosperity and invites all stakeholders to take part in nurturing the elements needed to build a fruitful life for our children by using all elements around them.

I am excited to continue my professional career with the New Generations Charter School, and to have the ability to help students in Montgomery County to succeed. Thank you in advance for your time. Once we speak with each other, we can discuss how showcase my experience to become a new prominent Elementary teacher and to help prepare a generation of lifelong learners to communicate with others and to lead our complex society.

Sincerely,

Natalie Harrington

Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez
Education for New Generations Charter School

Dear Mrs. Rodriguez:

I am a recent graduate of Gwynedd-Mercy College with a Bachelor of Science in Elementary and Special Education and certifications in Early Childhood Education and Middle School Mathematics. I am interested in applying for a teaching position at Education for New Generations Charter School.

I am currently a substitute teacher which allows me to meet and teach a diverse group of students. This past summer I was the lead teacher in an Extended School Year program with young children with multiple disabilities. During my teaching experiences, I have had the opportunity to work with students of diverse ability and education levels. I believe that my skills and teaching experience will allow me to make an impact on students which would allow them to have great success and accomplishment in learning. My triple major has allowed me to connect teaching all young children with and without special needs and create the best environment for all students.

My greatest strengths are classroom and time management and providing accommodations and modifications. I am able to plan effective lessons for students that adhere to a specific timeframe, as well as make changes within a lesson to make sure important concepts are covered for optimal students learning. I believe that each classroom has and needs its own structure and feel I am highly capable of making appropriate changes to the classrooms in which I teach. My communication skills allow me to create a connection with my students that makes them feel safe and comfortable in my classroom. I would be honored to have the chance to show you how my talents and skills can help the students learn and grow. I would like to teach at Education for New Generations Charter School in order to assist with instructing and inspiring all students with unique and varying abilities to be productive, life-longer learners while achieving to their highest potential.

If you should have any questions regarding how my talents and skills fit with your organization, please call me at 215-272-8864. I may also be reached by e-mail at emily.mccallister@hotmail.com. I sincerely look forward to discussing teaching opportunities where I can make a significant contribution to the educational program. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.

Dear Ms. Rodriguez and Ms. Siar:

I am pleased to present myself for consideration as an elementary school teacher in eNg Charter School. I hold a bachelors degree in Communication Disorders from Marywood University in Scranton, PA and a certification in Elementary Education from Jersey City State University in Jersey City, NJ.

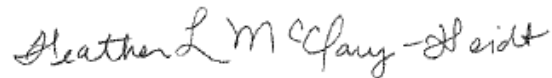

I began my teaching career in Scotch Plains, New Jersey as a substitute teacher where I accepted positions at all grade levels. I went on to obtain my teaching certification in Arizona and taught 4th grade for a year in Yuma. Anticipating a return to the east coast, I earned my teaching certification in Pennsylvania. I began a mid-year teaching position in a 7th grade classroom in the School District of Philadelphia. At the end of that position, I moved to Logan Elementary School located in the Logan section of Philadelphia, where I taught 3rd grade for 4 more years. My experiences are broad and far-reaching. I do not shrink from challenges. In every position I have filled, I have viewed each as an opportunity to learn more and grow better at the craft of teaching. At the heart of all of my endeavors is the belief that all students long for positive learning experiences, for the joy of finding things out, and for the thrill of successful achievement.

For a better part of the past decade, I have had the distinct pleasure of staying at home and raising my own children. It has proven to be one of the most challenging and humbling of all of my experiences. These years have provided invaluable insights to differences in learning of all children as well as deeper understanding inside of the need to address each child as a whole.

In closing, my vast and varied experiences in the classroom have been tempered by the past nine years I have spent raising my own children. I am a better person for it and feel it will make me an even better teacher than I was. My patience has lengthened, my compassion has grown, and the joy I have always found in helping children learn has inspired me to seek a new and more progressive environment for education.

Thank you. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Heather L. McClary-Heidt

My Philosophy of Student Discipline
Heather L. McClary-Heidt

The means of learning self-control and self-discipline are intrinsically connected to a child's self-concept. This in turn, determines how they relate to others. It is rare, however, that children develop strong and healthy self-concepts on their own. As children spend a large portion of their time in school, we must assist parents in helping their children develop the skills necessary to navigate this world as a responsible individual and citizen.

Providing children with choices and empowering them to make their own decisions is a first step in teaching them responsibility for their own decisions. Holding them accountable for their choices in a loving and safe, nurturing environment of understanding and forgiveness, is second. Children are not born knowing how to control themselves. They must learn the common rules of safety in the environments they populate; that they have responsibilities in such environments to themselves, others, as well as to the planet they will inherit. Helping them become actively aware and in practicing self-reflection is crucial to their education.

Children need clear and safe parameters for learning self-discipline. They need to learn that they may not hurt themselves or others with actions or words. They need to learn that they are responsible for their own actions. Other people are not (and should not) be present merely to control them.

All of these components are integral to the establishment of classroom management throughout the school year. A structured approach is comforting to children, as it sets boundaries for behavioral expectations. Some teachers may have many rules, while others depend on an overarching main rule that serves as an umbrella for all implied rules. One such rule within a classroom could be that, "All students must respect the learning of others", and therefore, no one is to disrupt the learning of others.

In my classrooms I have utilized an overarching rule as a basis for helping students develop the more specific (and at this age, more necessary) classroom rules that will guide their learning. Through class discussion and group work, my students have written the guidelines that direct our words and actions. By providing them responsibility and offering them assistance and scaffolding upon which to construct the rules, students develop ownership for the creating the classroom norms. From the start, my students understand that this is not "my" classroom, but "our" classroom. This small shift of pronoun creates a huge shift in their understanding of their role as students. They learn that their voices count, and such empowerment (built upon the scaffold of the overarching rule) is crucial to how I help students discover and learn together.

But rules are not enough to engender discipline. Children, like all human beings, often transgress rules. Thus, I also help my students develop ways to deal with themselves and others when rules (class, school, or even rules of decent behavior) are broken. My methods involve a type of wait time wherein students are to look at such actions as moments in which they can learn something. To do so, they must "Wait. Breathe. Think. Then, decide what to do." In this way they come to understand their emotions rather simply react to them.

Guiding children and helping them develop methods of self-discipline and self-control is not easy, certainly not as easy as forcing compliance through strict, "top down" rules. Warm, nurturing relationships and an empowered classroom promote positive self-discipline and self-control and helps children feel supported and valued, not judged and rejected. Being able to rely on students to make the right decisions because they want to and because it is the right thing to do is the reward.

Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez
Principal
Education for New Generations Charter School

Dear Mrs. Rodriguez:

Having the opportunity to perform as an educator in different academic settings, teaching has become a passion. I have planned engaging lessons around a pre-k to 6th grade highly developed curriculum and have become proficient in designing stimulating lesson plans which accommodate multiple intelligences and bring a hands-on approach to learning. I have worked cooperatively with teachers in the team, provided varied assessments for different learning styles and abilities based on designed curriculum, as well as working closely with colleagues to ensure the success of all students.

I have completed administrative duties, including report cards, conferences, guidance meetings, proctored the PSSA's, advisory sessions and field trips. Over the past few years I have developed a personal philosophy, where education focuses on the whole child and that all students can learn in an environment that promotes self esteem, self motivation, and a sense of responsibility. I strongly believe that education is a cooperative effort between the school, home and community.

I have designed lessons to meet district and state wide standards and curriculum and centered instruction around year long thematic units. I think that a cross-curricular curriculum where all academic areas are combined provide students with a sense of higher order thinking skills. Language Arts combined with English, social studies, writing, and reading allow students to connect their thoughts and ideas in order to expand their learning experiences. My teaching philosophy is that all students should be given an equal opportunity to learn based on their individual learning needs and styles based on multiple intelligences.

I fully support the Education for New Generations Charter School's mission statement in which blends physical, heart, thinking, creative, and spirit elements throughout a curriculum. In providing students with the gift of a high quality education students emerge in their adult years as healthy, well-developed future leaders.

I look forward with great anticipation to discussing with you the many ways in which I can make a significant contribution to your educational program. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Valena L. O'Malley

Dear Ms. Rodriguez,

I am writing to express my interest in a teaching position with eNG Charter School. I graduated Summa Cum Laude with my B.S. in Education from Elizabethtown College in January of 2010, and I am certified in both Elementary and Special Education.

During my undergraduate studies, I was fortunate to have many placements and part-time jobs in a variety of settings. I worked in a daycare and nursery school throughout college, and I completed one of my student teaching placements at The Vista School, a private school in Hershey, PA specifically for students with a diagnosis of moderate to severe Autism. For my general education certification, I student taught in a first grade classroom, building on my prior experiences from placements in a third grade classroom and a kindergarten intervention program.

In addition to my experiences in college, I am currently a 5th and 6th grade Autistic Support Teacher for the Delaware County Intermediate Unit. This, and my position as a Transitional/Diagnostic Kindergarten Teacher (Special Ed.) with Perkiomen Valley SD, has provided me with experience in IEP development and implementation as well as working as a team with parents, assistants, therapists, general educators, and administrators. I also spent time working as the Math and Science Specialist at Kinder Works, a private Kindergarten and preschool. There I co-taught on a daily basis with four group teachers, planning and implementing age appropriate and engaging lessons to excite students about learning math and science.

It is my hope to find a progressive educational organization that strives to teach the whole child -- to help in the development of a student's character, not just his/her academic performance. From what I have learned about eNG so far, your program seems to be just what today's educational system needs.

I believe that I would be a valuable member of your school because of my flexibility, dedication, and strong foundation of experience on which I hope to continue building. My teachers have instilled in me a passion for learning, and it is my goal to inspire my students to also become lifelong learners.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Jade Rodcheaver

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing to recommend Jade Rodeheaver for a position in your school district. I have had the pleasure of working with Jade as her mentor and then colleague for the past two years. I have witnessed Jade's growth as a teacher as she learned and implemented district curriculum and Pennsylvania Standards in her lessons and IEP's. She identified the needs of her students and tailored her lessons to fit their needs. Jade took the time and initiative to develop lessons for multiple grade levels based on district benchmarks.

Jade is also extremely organized. As part of her teaching duties she had to plan with other teachers as well as her assistants. Jade handled these situations with tact and professionalism. She allowed others to share their strengths in the classroom in order to create an optimal learning environment for a wide range of developmentally delayed students.

Jade had a very positive attitude everyday. She saw the possibilities for learning in every situation. Jade would ask for help when she needed it but was always willing to try new things as well. Jade was also ready to share an idea that she thought might work for you as well as whatever materials you might need to make it happen.

I am sure that Jade Rodeheaver will be a valuable addition to your staff. I will miss her at Evergreen. She is dependable, innovative and a stellar teacher. I recommend her wholeheartedly.

I would be happy to speak to you if you have any questions.

Sincerely yours,

Carol C. Okonski

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation in support Jade Rodeheaver. I had the pleasure of working with her as her building principal for the 2010/2011 school year. During this time period Jade served as a special education teacher in our transitional Kindergarten and First grade classroom.

Jade worked well with both her students and her colleagues. During my observations of Jade, I found her to be a strong teacher. She was very dedicated to her work and exemplified professionalism. She mastered the content quickly and exhibited the confidence that is so important in the classroom. In addition, she effectively managed behaviors in her classroom utilizing strong planning and organizational skills as well as developing an excellent rapport with her students. Her classroom was very well organized and very student centered. Jade was well liked by her students, her colleagues, her administrators and the Evergreen community at large.

I am pleased to recommend Jade to you without reservation. I am certain that should she receive a teaching position in your school, you will find her to be a bright and talented individual and an asset to your organization.

Sincerely,

Kimberly I. Minor

Elizabethtown College

Recommendation for Jade Rodeheaver

I was the clinical supervisor for Jade's student teacher experience in special education which took place at The Vista School in Hershey, PA. Jade taught pre-school children. The Vista School only enrolls children with a diagnosis of autism.

Jade worked exceptionally well with her cooperating teachers, Halley Fox and Julie Parsons during the entire student teaching experience.

From the very beginning of the experience Jade was enthusiastic and was highly interested in learning as much during the experience as she could possibly learn. Jade worked very hard, preparing excellent lesson plans, paying attention to all the small necessary details to be an effective teacher and in just a few short days Jade was at a comfort level, that if I would not have known, I would have thought Jade was a veteran teacher with much experience teaching autistic children.

Jade is an exceptional young person because she has been given a natural gift of talent to teach and she worked exceptionally well with the autistic children in this experience.

There was absolutely no difference in the veteran cooperating teacher's ability and Jade's teaching ability and getting along with these special needs children. The children warmed up to Jade, cooperated with her and it was a delightful experience to observe the rapport between Jade and these children.

Jade was always prepared, open to suggestions, hard working, attentive to the special needs of each child, and easily made accommodations because of the changing moods and attitudes of the autistic child.

As for personal characteristic, Jade was always appropriately attired and looked professional. She had a positive attitude toward teaching and learning and was an excellent role model for the children. She spoke audibly and conveyed a sense of enthusiasm.

I recommend that Jade Rodeheaver be considered for any teaching opening for which she is properly certified and qualified. She gets along well with others, accepts criticism willingly and is firm but fair with her students. Jade will be a positive asset and helpful to any school and faculty.

Sincerely,

12 VILLAGE DRIVE
SCHWENKSVILLE, PA 19473- 1777

Dear NAOMI AWERBUCH RODRIGUEZ:

Congratulations! You are a National Board Certified Teacher®!

I am pleased to inform you that your performance met the standard for National Board Certification® set by the board of directors of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards® (NBPTS®). Please accept my personal congratulations on your achievement. The certificate, a symbol of your accomplishment and the status you have achieved, should reach you later this year. We hope you will display it with pride.

To achieve National Board Certification, a candidate must earn a total weighted scaled score that equals or exceeds 275. Your total weighted scaled score, entry scores and weighted exercise scores are shown on your score profile. Information that describes the criteria used to score candidate responses can be found in the Scoring Guide located on the NBPTS Web site.

The American Council on Education (ACE) now recognizes the National Board Certification process as comparable to graduate level coursework. As a National Board Certified Teacher (NBCT), you are now eligible to request a transcript from ACE that recommends you receive up to nine semester hours of graduate credit in education. You can find more information about requesting a transcript for graduate credit on the NBPTS Web site.

I am confident that this achievement marks the beginning of a long and productive relationship between you and NBPTS. In virtually every case, achieving National Board Certification signals the start of a new, exciting phase in an educator's professional life. As a National Board Certified Teacher, you have the opportunity to play an active role in charting the future of American education.

You can expect to be sought out by candidates, administrators, media, education organizations and professional associations for your insights on the certification process and other education issues. NBPTS is prepared to help you share information about National Board Certification with your colleagues. Your name will be included among the list of National Board Certified Teachers that is posted on the NBPTS Web site, so please keep your information current in our records.

We look forward to your active involvement in the years to come as our work to integrate National Board Certification in America education continues.

To Whom It May Concern,

Please accept this letter of recommendation for an exceptional educator, Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez. While she would be sorely missed by our school district and by her students, I know that she will be an outstanding educational leader. She is well prepared for this next phase of her career.

Over the many years that I have known her, Naomi has always shown herself to be a star teacher and both a student and practitioner of best practices in education. She has made it her personal mission to reach EVERY child and has been extraordinarily very successful!

Naomi is highly organized, extremely grounded in current pedagogical thought. She is highly professional in all aspects of her work. Information for students and parents is communicated articulately and appropriately. She is a good listener and is very thoughtful, reflecting usefully on her practice and that of colleagues. Naomi has a wealth of knowledge about what defines good practice in her field and has held herself to an extremely high standard in her own work. She has, through this intense process, become a master teacher herself, achieving National Board Certification as one way to demonstrate these characteristics and to grow professionally. She is not only an incredibly caring individual who is empathetic and compassionate, but she wields a wealth of knowledge about how our students learn and what strategies to use if they are having difficulty.

When she is providing direct instruction to students, you are likely to see students learning using all modalities. You would see constant teacher interactions as Mrs. Rodriguez works directly with large and small groups of students, but you would also see students working rigorously and cooperatively with each other. Her teacher work is focused on teaching students to be students – to be focused and to learn to love to learn.

If you seek a highly organized and intelligent instructional leader who will bring a wealth of knowledge of best practices, a well-developed sense of what is right for kids, and a fabulous connection with students and their parents, I highly recommend Mrs. Rodriguez. Please do not hesitate to call (610-489-8506) or contact me via email (crogers@pvsd.org) if you have any questions or would like additional information.

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is in support of Naomi Rodriguez as an applicant for supervisory or administrative positions. Naomi is one of the most enthusiastic and talented teachers that I have ever met. She is deeply dedicated to her student's academic progress as well as their social and emotional well-being. Her innovative ideas, focus on student data and integration of technology has truly impacted the quality of our middle school program and made a difference in the education of her students.

So far in her tenure at Perkiomen Valley Middle School East, Naomi has been recognized for achieving National Board Certification in mathematics. She also designed and implemented a "Creative Math" resource time for struggling students and is an integral member of her team's data meetings. She is continually sharing brain research and best practices research with her colleagues as well as modeling these approaches in her classroom.

In summary, Naomi is a bright, capable, and dedicated educator. I am confident that she would be an extremely positive addition to any administrative team. She unquestionably merits strong consideration for any position of educational leadership in which she expresses interest.

If I can provide you with any additional information, please feel free to contact me at (610) 409-8580.

Dear Naomi:

I was so pleased that your principal shared your electronic portfolio. I spent time sifting through the pages and exploring the links, attachments, and pictures. It was an outstanding way for you to catalog your accomplishments for this year and portray how you achieved your goals and those of your students.

I particularly liked your lesson plan examples complete with instructional goals based on student data. Your comments showed that you reflect on your planning. This is a model in lesson design for all teachers. I hope it can be made available for others to review.

I have truly appreciated your commitment to our students and our program here in Norristown. I know your creativity and dedication have made a difference in the lives of our students.

Re: Recommendation letter for Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez

Dear Sir or Madam,

I have worked with Naomi Rodriguez as her direct supervisor from June of 2006 to the present. During that time, Mrs. Rodriguez has done an extraordinary job in her position as grade 8 math teacher and coach. Mrs. Rodriguez has a strong love of teaching and a passion for integrating technology into her work. Mrs. Rodriguez has transformed the way that math has historically been taught and the results have been extremely positive.

Mrs. Rodriguez currently uses a great deal of technology in her classes and allows the students to do the same as they work independently. The students are highly engaged when one visits her classroom. Mrs. Rodriguez has taken math and has made this subject area one that the students can relate to real life. She puts an emphasis on the application and the use of technology has assisted her in this accomplishment.

I feel that Mrs. Rodriguez has the skills and the academic drive to achieve to a high level of success within the program at Drexel University. I would strongly recommend her for the doctoral program and would be happy to answer any further questions you may have regarding her qualifications.

Thank you,

Nicole Poncheri, Principal

Eisenhower's Focus: Reading and Writing Across the Content Areas

April 2, 2009

Dear Sir or Madam,

It is a pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez, our math specialist at Eisenhower Middle School. I have enjoyed working with Ms. Rodriguez for several years as a colleague and supervisor. Each day her passion for students and education is evident in her lessons, interactions with colleagues and commitment to lifelong-learning.

Ms. Rodriguez has modeled lifelong learning for our staff by her continuation of graduate education and through pursuit of her National Board Certification. She participates on the school Leadership team and facilitates workshops and lessons for our staff. Ms. Rodriguez was instrumental in organizing a special academic evening this year for our school which had over 400 participants!

Her dedication to students is evident through her ability to differentiate instruction. She has a thorough knowledge of working with a diverse population and is comfortable with co-teaching and inclusion. Her compassion towards our large special education population and students with multiple disabilities and autism is valued in our building, further demonstrating her love for children and passion for education.

Please feel free to contact me to discuss Mrs. Rodriguez's qualifications in further detail. I am confident in her abilities and am delighted to recommend her!

To Whom It May Concern:

Naomi Rodriguez has been a colleague of mine for the past three years. During those three years, I have come to know and appreciate the enthusiastic, committed, and driven person that she is.

Naomi has initiated our district's Math Mania Night, taking charge and making sure everything runs smoothly. Through Naomi's efforts, Math Mania has been a district success for the last three years.

In addition, Naomi's expertise in technology has allowed her to create her own website and enabled her to take the lead in publishing middle school supplemental workbooks that are not only aligned to our curriculum but also to our state anchors. Naomi has played an integral part in writing our middle school math curricula and creating our district's quarterly mathematics snapshots.

I write this letter with mixed emotions because it might mean that we lose Naomi. Although Naomi has only been in this district a short time, the impact that she has made is immeasurable.

If you have any questions, or need any further information, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Chuck Brenner

Eisenhower's Focus: Reading and Writing Across the Content Areas

To Whom It May Concern:

Naomi Rodriguez and I worked as colleagues during the 2008-2009 school year. While serving on many committees together, including the Leadership Team, I have found that Naomi brings energy, strong convictions, and the ability to express new ideas with vigor and passion. She is well versed in brain research, current with new techniques for differentiated instruction, and superior at gathering, interpreting, and displaying data for students and teachers. She shares her depth of knowledge in the field of mathematics by providing professional development for staff, modeling lessons, and providing feedback to teachers, and small group work using data to drive instruction. She has also supported the integration of math into the content areas of social studies and science at Eisenhower Middle School. Naomi's accomplishments outside of the classroom in just this year alone include organizing a completely free dinner with dinner theater and activity night in the first Eisenhower Education Extravaganza, getting the first Homework Hotline set up, winning a grant for curriculum writing, completing the requirements for National Board Candidacy, and publishing two articles in the regional math association newsletter known as ATMOPAV.

Naomi is very creative and has used this skill to create interactive hallway centers. One center is a life sized SuDoKu game. It is wonderful to see students stopping and contributing to it as well as her many other hallway centers. Her center based lessons, which apply brain research as a classroom model, have been adopted by many of the teachers. Naomi has created new tools and very clever functional mnemonic devices to help students remember math concepts. Many of these she has posted around the school as reinforcement for students reviewing for tests.

Naomi has strong classroom management skills and is well liked by the middle level student. She is very understanding of the needs of this age as well as the psychological and physiological issues that affect their decisions, learning, and motivation.

Mrs. Rodriguez is a bright, determined, strong educator who will be a wonderful addition to any staff. Please feel free to contact me for more information at any time.

Dear Ms. Rodriguez,

Congratulations! In recognition of your skills as an exemplary teacher, your Principal, Ms. Nicole Poncheri, has nominated you as a potential candidate for National Board Certification. National Board Certification is the highest credential in the teaching profession. It is a voluntary and rigorous process that measures what a teacher knows and is able to do. It is also an incredible professional development experience that allows you to analyze and reflect on your current teaching practice.

Research shows that students of National Board Certified Teachers (NBCT) perform better on tests, especially in reading and math, and that being taught by an NBCT can be equal to an extra month of school for students.

The only qualification is that you have at least three years certified teaching experience. Tuition for the program ($2500) is being paid for through Federal and State grants. In addition, the Norristown Area School District, in recognition of the required effort, dedication and skills, provides National Board Certified Teachers a $2000 annual stipend which is considered part of the salary for retirement purposes for the 10 year certification period.

For more information about the program, you can visit the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards website at www.nbpts.org or contact me at the above email or phone number.

Temple University's Center for Teaching Excellence (www.temple.edu/education/CTE) will be available to provide you with free professional support and/ mentoring through the entire assessment process.

I hope that you will consider undertaking this exciting professional endeavor and that you will encourage at least one of your colleagues to join you on the journey of becoming a National Board Certified Teacher. We will be having a short orientation at your school on February 6, 2008 from 3:15 to 4:00pm. Please email me if you can attend. If you are unable to attend, we will be having a three hour orientation in May at Temple University. Please contact me if you wish to attend, so I can send you an invitation. If you have any questions or want more information please feel free to contact me at csadjpea@temple.edu or by phone at 215-204-0557.

I am writing to nominate Naomi Rodriguez for recognition by the Norristown Area School District School Board. I first met Mrs. Rodriguez this past September of 2008 while dealing with math concerns regarding my 6th grade son. She is the mathematics specialist at Eisenhower Middle School - at least that is her official title. Perhaps better titles would be "Doer of All Things" or "The One Who Never Stops".

Soon after my son's math placement issues were professionally and competently handled, I received an email she had sent to all parents who had responded to an earlier questionnaire inquiring about a program she was initiating. Mrs. Rodriguez envisioned starting a math parent volunteer program to help increase the visibility of numbers and math related materials in the school hallways, as well as provide more alternative opportunities to improve math skills for those children performing at the basic and below basic level.

In the several months since I have joined Mrs. Rodriguez's parent volunteer team, numbers have filled the school hallways. She has used her parent volunteers to create interactive math games on the empty wall space and posters reinforcing math concepts. We have also worked with math teachers in the classroom during group activities, as well as worked with one or two students on fine tuning specific math skills. She is always prepared to present us with her next activity or project. I have heard many positive comments from both teachers and students about the cool centers she has created. In many cases, the students are engaging in math learning without even realizing it. One afternoon, I told a student using one of the hallway centers that it was time to stop doing math and to go home. The student stared at me in shock and questioned, "This is math?" All thanks to Naomi Rodriguez.

Mrs. Rodriguez's biggest undertaking so far this year has been the Eisenhower Educational Extravaganza. This event was held one evening during American Education Week. She led a team that successfully turned a routine math mania night into a whole school event filled with games and learning activities in all four of the major subject areas. Over 400 parents, students, and siblings had an incredible fun-filled 2 hours that even included a free spaghetti and salad dinner for everyone.

This year, in an effort to improve collaboration between the home and school, Eisenhower is taking part in PA-PIRC. Mrs. Rodriguez is the fearless leader guiding a team of students, parents, and teachers through the Solid Foundations Program.

Mrs. Rodriguez attends many of the Parent Faculty Club meetings on her own time. She listens to the parent concerns and discusses possible solutions. She is currently involved in establishing a homework assignment hotline - a telephone system of recordings enabling both parents and students to double check and verify homework assignments.

To top it all off, I've realized that Naomi Rodriguez is equally involved in a large number of activities at her own children's elementary school. She also provides homework help to children in her neighborhood.

Naomi Rodriguez is an intelligent, creative, and successful teacher. She is well liked by both students and peers. Whenever I'm at Eisenhower Middle School, she is always on the go - running to another classroom, coordinating lessons with teachers, guiding parent volunteers, and/or creating more unique math learning opportunities for the middle school students at Eisenhower. She is not just a mathematics specialist teaching math in isolation, but a special person who strives to intertwine math into all subjects. Mrs. Rodriguez puts forth her best efforts for the best interests of the entire school.

To Whom It May Concern:

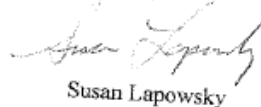

I have had the pleasure of working with Naomi Rodriguez at Eisenhower Middle School since September 2007. She has been the Math Specialist during that time. I have been an eighth grade mathematics teacher at Eisenhower for nineteen years. Some of Mrs. Rodriguez's responsibilities include modeling new teaching techniques in my class, observing my lessons in order to offer suggestions, and presenting professional development seminars for teachers.

I have found Mrs. Rodriguez to be an enormous asset to our school. It is obvious that she spends a great deal of time planning for the seminars that she presents, and I always walk away with some new and innovative ideas. When she is in my class, she is full of positive energy and makes every student feel she cares about them. Mrs. Rodriguez is one of the most creative people that I know. When I was having difficulty setting up centers in my classroom, her suggestions about how to physically set up the room and keep all the students engaged were the key to the success of the lesson.

Eisenhower Middle School includes a wide range of students from varying backgrounds and cultures. Mrs. Rodriguez has the ability to connect with all of the children on a personal level while challenging them to reach their highest academic potential. The students tell me that they enjoy when she comes into my classroom. I believe this is because of the respect she shows them and her ability to make the lessons interesting.

Naomi Rodriguez has demonstrated that she is a dedicated and highly effective Math Specialist. Any school would be fortunate to have her on their faculty.

Sincerely,

Susan Lapowsky

Dear Administrator:

Naomi Rodriguez has worked with me as the mathematics specialist for three years. Ms. Rodriguez has provided numerous suggestions and engaging activities for use in my classroom. It is evident in her instruction and planning that she is up-to-date with best practices and current educational research.

Ms. Rodriguez is an implementer of small group instruction through the use of centers/stations. Evident through her teaching, Ms. Rodriguez believes in engaging students in mathematics through hands-on activities either through manipulatives, technology, or higher-order thinking. On numerous occasions she has made her own manipulatives or tools to aide in students' understanding of the skills or topics. She can also effectively plan for differentiated instruction through tiered activities. Ms. Rodriguez implements current best practices into her teaching with ease.

Not only does Ms. Rodriguez plan classroom instruction for students, she also supports the teachers in her school. Because Ms. Rodriguez is the math specialist she has planned and implemented professional development workshops where the teachers experience activities as students would and then help us to create the tools and activities for our classrooms. Teachers get support from Ms. Rodriguez in writing lesson plans to include stations/centers, integrating technology, differentiating, and creating engaging activities. Specialists are there to support the teachers and the instruction, and Ms. Rodriguez is a perfect model of what that support should look like.

I am confident in recommending Naomi Rodriguez for a position. She will be an asset to any school she is a part of. Whether Ms. Rodriguez is in a classroom or supporting teachers as a specialist, her goal of making the classroom engaging and instructionally rich is evident in her ideas and implementations.

Sincerely,

Andrea Parker

To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to recommend Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez for employment as a teacher and/or a mathematics coordinator.

Mrs. Rodriguez possesses excellent classroom management and creative lessons that are diverse to reach every student in the class. I have known Mrs. Rodriguez for three years now as a mathematics specialist at Eisenhower Middle School. As a 5th grade math teacher at Eisenhower, I have been able to work directly with Mrs. Rodriguez. She has provided lessons, materials, and assisted whenever I have asked. The work she produces is always grade appropriate, aligned with the state standards, and creative. I believe her good management skills and pleasant personality have helped enrich our school.

Mrs. Rodriguez is a unique individual with a positive attitude, who can accept responsibility to complete a project with little oversight or direction. Her excellent mathematical skills and administrative skills make her a valuable asset to any school or administration. I would highly recommend her to any district seeking these qualities in an individual.

To Whom This May Concern:

I am writing this recommendation letter on behalf of Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez, I am the Founder and Chief Administrative Officer of The Mathematics, Civics and Sciences Charter School of Philadelphia, Inc. Mrs. Rodriguez is employed at the school as a third grade teacher. I also hired Mrs. Rodriguez.

I am Mrs. Rodriguez's direct supervisor, and I communicate with her daily. Mrs. Rodriguez is an excellent teacher, she loves her students and take great pride in teaching them. She is an extremely creative teacher. Her classroom is always filled with creative bulletin boards that she has designed, to go along with the thematic units she is teaching. These bulletin boards also display her student's work.

She is always willing to help whenever she is needed. Mrs. Rodriguez is a team player, and she gets along well with her co-workers.

I highly recommend Mrs. Rodriguez for graduate school. If I can provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me at (215) 923-4880.

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing this reference letter on behalf of Mrs. Naomi Rodriguez. I've been Mrs. Rodriguez's supervisor for the 2003-2004 school year at Mathematics, Civics and Sciences Charter School in Philadelphia, Pa. It has been a pleasure working with Mrs. Rodriguez on the third grade team. She possesses creativity, confidence and self-control.

As Mrs. Rodriguez's lead teacher, I have had the opportunity to work with her in creating lesson plans, curriculum planning, and I have observed her teaching and classroom management skills on several occasions. Mrs. Rodriguez possesses strong qualities in all aspects of her career. Striving to optimize her students' learning experiences, Mrs. Rodriguez is constantly trying innovative methods and reflecting on her own work to perfect her teaching skills. She is always open to new ideas and openly shares her ideas and resources with all of the teachers on her team.

Mrs. Rodriguez's dedication to her students extends beyond their academic performance to their happiness and well being. Giving up her own lunch time on numerous occasions to talk with students who were having social problems or problems at home is just one of many ways Mrs. Rodriguez has shown her students how much she cares about them. She and her family have even attended non-school related activities; on one occasion she attended one of her student's minor league races. She also sends via post to students she feels need extra support.

There is no better teacher than one that possesses the skills to instruct, has a wealth of background information to support a learning environment, and truly cares about the growth of each individual student. Mrs. Rodriguez is one such teacher. I will be sad to see her leave our team. However, I feel confident that she will be a valued asset to your school as she has been to ours.

Sincerely,

Ms. Renee L. Clarke

I am writing this letter of reference for Naomi Awerbuch, who was a pre-student teacher in my fourth-grade classroom from January 6 – March 14, 2003. During that time period, Miss Awerbuch spent the mornings, as well as some full days, observing, assisting, and directing instruction in large group, small group, as well as individualized settings. Since the morning instruction was largely Mathematics and Integrated Language Arts, Miss Awerbuch's experience focused mainly on those areas.

From the beginning of her pre-student teaching, Miss Awerbuch expressed an interest in all areas of classroom management. She was immediately given responsibilities such as correcting homework, teacher read-aloud, and conducting the daily math warm-up. She later assumed more responsibility for planning and delivering complete lessons using the curriculum materials provided by the district.

Miss Awerbuch was regularly self-analyzing her performance, as well as requesting constructive criticism from my perspective. She often video taped her lessons, and used the tapes to set goals for future lesson presentations. During this time, Miss Awerbuch's confidence and comfort level grew continually. By the end of our 10 weeks together, Miss Awerbuch was able to take control of the classroom for the entire morning.

Miss Awerbuch developed supplemental materials to go along with a Social Studies lesson on map scale and a poetry lesson in Language Arts. The students enjoyed her curricular extensions which gave them the opportunity to express their learning in creative ways. Miss Awerbuch is to be commended for her initiative in this area.

I believe Miss Awerbuch has the qualities necessary to be a wonderful teacher. Her enthusiasm, drive, and initiative will certainly prove to be an asset to any school district that is lucky enough to hire her. If you need any other information regarding Miss Awerbuch's pre-student teaching experience, please feel free to contact me.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am happy to write a letter of recommendation for Naomi Awerbuch. Although I have known Naomi for only a short amount of time, she has impressed me with her grasp and understanding of teaching pedagogy as well as the learning needs of children.

Naomi possesses sensitivity to the needs of learners and this sensitivity and understanding of the importance of dignity, energy, self-management, community and awareness will result in engaged and active learners. Naomi so impressed me with her understanding of learner needs, that I selected her for a new position at Drexel's Learning Center – Learning Strategies Assistant. This position went beyond content, and assisted students in developing comprehension monitoring strategies according to their multiple intelligences. With Naomi's understanding of key pedagogical methodologies along with her Engineering and Design background I knew that she would combine the artistic and scientific aspects of teaching and learning to help students.

I considered Naomi to be one of my top students and I looked forward to reading her weekly journals combining course content and application to the tutorials she provided to the community. She further demonstrated her understanding of learning strategies, multiple intelligences, heuristic diagnostic teaching pedagogy, and affective influences related to learning in her final project presentation (a game combining all aspects of very complicated concepts).

Naomi Awerbuch is the type of teacher we need in our schools. She brings the skill and creativity necessary to engage the learner of today. I strongly urge you to give her your utmost consideration for any available teaching position at your school. Please feel free to contact me with questions.

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to offer my highest recommendation for Ms. Naomi Awerbuch [REDACTED]. Having worked with Ms. Awerbuch over the past year, I am confident of my assessment.

Ms. Awerbuch is highly intelligent, extremely energetic, and her conduct meets the highest standards of integrity and professionalism. She will be a valued asset to any school and school system of which she is a part. Ms. Awerbuch is a well-rounded and cultured educator. She is proficient in another language (German), she is an accomplished musician (Violin), and she is versatile athlete (Swimming). She has varied experience in technical laboratory settings and is also exceptionally technologically proficient in many hardware and software computer applications.

Ms. Awerbuch received high marks during her pre-student teaching experience and is doing extremely well in her current student teaching placement. Her cooperating teacher stated that Ms. Awerbuch had a "natural ability to teach." Having worked with Ms. Awerbuch in a curriculum class, I would vouch for her natural affinity for the profession of teaching. She instinctively makes the appropriate decisions and best choices associated with excellent teaching.

In her statement of her teaching philosophy, Ms. Awerbuch espouses a constructivist vision of teaching and states that she believes teaching is the most important role in a community. This respect for the profession and assertion of the high moral and utilitarian value of teaching is a genuine indication of the determination and purpose Ms. Awerbuch will bring to her classroom.

Ms. Awerbuch represents the very best of the professional excellence that Drexel strives to inculcate in its future educators. She is recommended without reservation. If I can provide additional information do not hesitate to contact me.

Dear Naomi,

Thank you for your vision and mission towards the creation and manifestation of this dream for educators, children, their families and the community. Upon learning about eNG Charter School I have felt passionate about becoming part of this school. I believe my experience in counseling and education offer an opportunity to enhance and continue to progress this work.

I am writing in regards to an interest in working with your school as a counselor and/or educator. I have extensive experience as a counselor working with children of all ages and their families. More recently I have gained experience as an adjunct professor teaching Holistic Health and Yoga on the community college level. I have been incorporating the elements and philosophy of eNG in both my work as a counselor and professor. I work with children and families to strengthen and nurture the physical, heart, thinking and spiritual elements to enhance communication, harmony, confidence and character within the family in individual and family counseling. Within education I have worked with students to learn the curriculum while enhancing these elements to evolve into confident and inspired students to facilitate change in their lives and garner an interest in enhancing their families and communities.

As a counselor I have had experience of working with children in the school setting, supporting the creation and implementation of IEP's and assisting parents in their relationships with the school. My experience has lead me to work with children with special needs including mental health and behavioral challenges as well as children diagnosed with PDD and symptomatic in regards to the autistic spectrum. I envision my role as a guide to encourage children and families to strive to become well rounded and successful by teaching the skills to build character, creativity and confidence. I have a strong desire to become a part of the team in offering the gift of a "premier life education".

I have attached my resume and look forward to working with you in the future.

Thank You,

Dear Naomi Rodriguez,

I recently attended your informational meeting regarding your new charter school. I would like to be considered for a teaching position when you get final approval. The eNG philosophy closely parallels my own with your emphasis on the balanced development of the whole child. I have had an extensive teaching career, with each position challenging me to develop the skills and qualifications that make me the teacher that I am today.

Kindergarten/Preschool Experience - realized the need for continuous reflection and evaluation, resulting in an engaging and appropriate curriculum that met state standards.

Learned to foster a sense of curiosity, a positive attitude and respect for others.

Special Needs Classes - required me to implement diverse approaches to meet individual needs, learning styles, and abilities

Private School Sector - was able to establish positive communication with parents, address curriculum issues, and collaborate with my peers

Substituting - challenged me to assess situations quickly, think on my feet and maximize learning in sometimes less than ideal situations

Computer assignments - allowed me to explore and utilize technology in the classroom, in lesson planning, and in parent communication

Every position taught me the value of patience and a sense of humor. Throughout my teaching career I have proven to be organized, dependable, and motivated. I am confident that my qualifications, experience, commitment and maturity would be an asset to your staff.

I am attaching my resume in this email. I can also provide my clearances, letters of reference, transcripts, and certificates. I welcome an opportunity to meet with you and your interview team at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Debra J. Walker

Dear eNG Charter,

My name is Theresa Anderson. I am a third year teacher at Mastery Charter School Harrity Elementary School in West Philadelphia. I am a resident of Lansdale and recently read an article about the charter school you are opening in the North Penn School District. I am very interested in learning more about your new school. The philosophies of teaching discussed in the article really caught my eye. My late father inlaw was a teacher for more than 40 years and your philosophies remind me of discussions I have had with him on education. Especially the research that students can only take in 12 to 15 minutes of new information. He used to say that all the time. He was a brilliant educator and taught me a lot that I use in my own practice as an educator. I love the philosophy of developing a child as a whole, mind, body, and heart. It is a practice I would really love to be a part of. I am extremely interested in interviewing for a position at your new school. I have attached my resume. I would love for you to take a look at it. Please feel free to get back to me at any time. Thanks!

Naomi Rodriguez
ENG Charter School

Ms. Rodriguez,

In reference to the upcoming teacher positions available, I am enclosing this letter of interest to ENG Charter School, for your review and consideration.

Currently, I am a classroom teacher, in the ACT program, at The Pathway School, a special education private school, located in Norristown, PA. In addition to teaching academics, the ACT program consists of incorporating community transition and living skills into the curriculum. Through a school-wide positive behavior approach, I have gained experience in implementing positive behavior procedures and key social-thinking elements into my classroom. I am responsible for all classroom functions as well as creating and implementing each student's IEP.

Previously, I was the Elementary/Secondary teacher at Milagre Kid's School, an autistic support private school, servicing students from 6-15 years of age. Through this position, I gained experience in IEP writing, progress monitoring, intensive teaching, ABA and VB programming, and direct instruction. In addition to this position, I have over three years' experience working with autistic children as a home/school based behavior therapist.

I have over six years of experience in the early childhood classroom setting. These backgrounds have equipped me with all classroom functions, such as delivering a creative, nurturing, and thriving environment in order to inspire the learning process. My experiences have also given me the abilities needed to gain instructional control in the learning environment.

In addition to my experience, I have a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education and an Associate's degree in Early Childhood Education. I hold Pennsylvania certifications in K-6, Special Education, and Mid-Level English 7-9. I am currently enrolled in the Master of Education / Special Education at Cabrini College.

In light of my qualifications and experience, I feel confident that I have much to offer. I can be reached at the above address and telephone number. Thank you for your time, attention and consideration.

Sincerely,

Tricia Fisher

Ms. Naomi Rodriguez
Education for New Generations Charter School
North Penn School District
Lansdale, Pennsylvania 19446

Dear Ms. Rodriguez,

I am writing to apply for an elementary position at the Education for New Generations Charter School in the North Penn School District. As a graduate from West Chester University, with a degree in elementary education, I have student teaching experience on the third grade level. My diverse background working with school age children has equipped me with a broad range of skills and disciplines that meet the requirements of the positions I am seeking.

Over the past several months it has been my pleasure to be a substitute teacher. My most recent role has provided me with the opportunity to work with students at various grade levels, and support students with diverse needs. Furthermore, my previous role as a Kinder Kids Teacher has provided me with the opportunity to support students with a “head start” in mastering basic reading, writing, and math skills. Throughout my experience I have been challenged to be creative, nurturing, communicative, and patient. Furthermore, this job has taught me the importance of education at an early age.

As a young adult I transitioned out of competitive sports and into the role of coach and mentor. Beginning in high school I managed jobs as a gymnastics instructor as well as a community diving coach. My diving position came to me at a time that I was both competing as well as coaching. Both jobs require skill and knowledge of the sport as well as effective communication and demonstration of the skills being taught. Through these jobs I have developed strengths in organization, differentiation, and management. At both jobs I worked with up to fifteen children with ages varying from six to thirteen. Both jobs allowed me to demonstrate my passion for working with youth and developing their knowledge.

It is my goal to apply my knowledge and abilities to teaching at Education for New Generations Charter School. Enclosed is my résumé and application. I look forward to the opportunity to meet you personally for an interview. Thank you very much for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Schoenberger

Dear Mrs. Rodriguez and Ms. Siar:

Please accept my enclosed resume.

My hat is off to you two, you get it!

I saw your plan for the Education for New Generations Charter School in The Reporter and am very excited about your vision for this new school. I am an extremely motivated positive individual, who loves teaching and interacting with students. I am considered a nurturing teacher and my belief is to foster the "whole child," academically, socially and culturally. I also believe in designing learning plans that are suited for the individual student by learning their strengths, needs, preferences and learning styles. I taught for years in Perkiomen Valley as an Instructional Support Teacher, then transitioned into teaching Second Grade. I left PV in August of 2011 to move up to New Hampshire to help care for my mother. While in New Hampshire I was a Long Term Substitute, teaching First, Fourth, and Spanish. I ended up the school year teaching Library K-8th in a quaint nurturing public school at the base of a ski mountain. It was at that school that I learned the importance of teaching the "whole" student. It was during this time that I saw students taking responsibility for themselves, helping others, challenging themselves, and having fun. I also noticed that I was able to step out of my comfort zone to try teaching strategies that I have never attempted before. My time in New Hampshire was short and I was needed to return back to Pa.

I would love to have the opportunity to meet and discuss any opportunity to work with you two ladies in your new adventure.

My cell phone number is (484) 919-6416.

I look forward to your call!

SPDC Activity Confirmation

Essential Word Knowledge Skills Workshop

This Certification of Completion is hereby granted to:

Joy Annas

This is to confirm your attendance at (12) hours of the training, Essential Word-Knowledge Skills: Teaching a Sight-Word Vocabulary and the Necessary Underlying Skills Simultaneously on May 3, 10, 17 and 24, 2012. The sixteen-hour training had the following objectives:

- Understanding of the skills which underlie phonemic awareness, orthography, and, therefore, the alphabetic principle;
- Understanding of how, by using phonetic analysis training as well as fluency training (Precision Teaching), students can learn to read the way skilled readers learn, that is, through being able to apply the alphabetic principle efficiently;
- Understanding of the importance of being able to use the alphabetic principle (One of the attributes of the English language is that it has so many more words than most other languages. There is no way to teach all of the words skilled readers are able to read; learners must develop the ability to apply the alphabetic principle, thus, becoming skilled readers. When teachers provide children with the phonetic analysis of words that are being learned, teachers are providing the "gift" that talented, skilled readers have.);
- Developing teachers' expertise to provide instruction in sight-word vocabulary for reading and spelling, in underlying alphabetic skills, and in fluency.
- Developing teachers' expertise to provide instruction in learning the system by which parts of words are combine to create an advanced vocabulary

To Whom It May Concern:

This is a letter of recommendation written on behalf of Ms. Joy Annas. Ms. Annas is a member of our second grade team at Skippack Elementary School.

Joy is always professional. She is prompt and willingly participates in district and building initiatives. It is evident that she enjoys working with children and demonstrates this in her daily interactions with students, staff, and parents at Skippack Elementary School.

As a classroom teacher, Ms. Annas prepares and conducts lessons in all areas of the second grade curriculum. Her classroom environment presents a warm and caring atmosphere, which allows students to participate in the learning. Joy communicates effectively with families through newsletters, emails, and phone conversations as needed. Additionally, Joy has a passion for music and seeks to integrate music into her instruction when possible. She works collaboratively with the second grade team and her building colleagues.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Kimberly D. Boyd

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I am writing to recommend Joy Annas to be employed as a teacher in your school district. I have known Joy for thirteen years, having worked closely with her on the second grade team at Skippack Elementary for eight years. Prior to that, she came into my classroom each year to observe children and develop learning or behavioral plans in her role as the Instructional Support teacher for our building. I also consider Joy to be a close, dear friend.

Joy brings a wealth of experience with her. Not only does she have second grade classroom experience, but she also has a reading specialist degree, Wilson certification, and five years experience as an Instructional Support Teacher. She and I have shared many instructional ideas and strategies over the years.

I know Joy to be a dedicated and caring teacher, who loves children and wants them to succeed. She has often been given students with attentional and/or emotional challenges due to her nurturing nature and understanding of learning and behavioral differences. She individualizes instruction and works closely with her students' families in order to meet their needs. Joy is also a gifted musician, who sings and plays the guitar. She incorporates these talents into her classroom on a regular basis. This year she performed at our Entertainment Night and end-of-the-year school assembly.

While I am deeply sad and disappointed that Joy will be leaving our school, I highly recommend her for employment, as I believe that she will be an outstanding asset to your school district. She is a team player, excellent teacher, and valued friend.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the pleasure of working with Joy Annas for four months as a grade level colleague. She joined our first grade team to fill a maternity position and had less than a week to prepare and greet incoming first graders. She is a team player and very involved with her grade level members. She spent several days working alongside the teacher she was replacing and was very committed to keeping the routine and schedule consistent for the students as well as the teacher.

Joy is an experienced educator who takes a genuine interest in all of her students. She takes the time to know the children and creates an easy natural rapport with their parents. She is secure in her knowledge of curriculum as well as the development of the young child. She is always positive, patient and very nurturing. Joy is an eager learner and has a strong work ethic. Her day extends above and beyond the limits of the school day.

Your school would be more than fortunate to have this experienced educator on staff. If you have further questions do not hesitate to call or email me at cviani@mv.k12.nh.us.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Viani

To Whom It May Concern:

It is an honor and pleasure to provide a reference for Ms. Joy Annas. My son and daughter both benefited from having Ms. Annas for second grade, 4 years apart, at Skippack Elementary. I cannot say enough about this teacher. I come from an entire family of elementary and secondary teachers and am familiar with what qualities are extremely important in such an important job. Ms. Annas stood out above all teachers at Skippack to my children, my husband and me. She instilled confidence, encouraged them to love to learn, read, and to appreciate music. Of his six years at Skippack, Nicholas insisted on going back to visit only her and volunteered to help in her class when possible. My daughter has awakened each morning since school ended this year saying she so misses Ms. Annas.

She nurtures and encourages young children daily by providing an inviting learning environment and a comfortable classroom for children to grow. Her excitement and energy for learning is undying even though she has done this for years. There is a comfort about her and knowing she is watching over the development of your children puts one at ease. It is evident she cares about each and every student as she announces their qualities, attributes, their strengths and what she sees them to be as adults and in their careers at her specialty 2nd grade graduation ceremony at the end of the year.

She is one of those teachers born/ called to teach. It is her nature. She is also organized, efficient, and open to discuss topics of concern and questions from parents.

Any school would be proud to have her on staff and the school where she comes from will have a permanent hole due to her absence. She is an example of the teacher that those high school graduates come roaming back to the halls of elementary school to visit and thank, or write to tell of the effect she had on their lives. As a parent, she has obviously affected me and I consider her a true jewel.

If you have any questions or need further detail, please feel free to contact me at 610-397-2635.

Sincerely,

Kate Salazar, Assistant Vice President

Regards: Position at eNG Charter

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter to express my interest in applying for a position with eNG Charter School. My teaching experience began in the Norristown Area School District as a teacher's assistant. I have continued with the district as a second grade teacher for six years. In addition to the required classroom work, I have been given the opportunity to contribute my time to before and after school programs. I earned my Pennsylvania teaching certification in December 2004 and I received my Master's in Elementary Education in December 2005 from Chestnut Hill College. I currently hold a Level II permanent K-6 teaching certificate in Pennsylvania.

Norristown Area School District has allowed me to continue my education beyond what I have learned in the traditional classroom. My passion has always been in the classroom working with children. In the last few years, I have gained interest in exploring leadership roles by helping teachers be more effective in the classroom. I've had the privilege of sharing my knowledge of best literacy practices with other educators through my experience as a professional developer for K-3 teachers and as a model classroom teacher for Children's Literacy Initiative (CLI). As a model classroom teacher, I am responsible for providing effective instruction while being a resource for other educators. Educators, administrators, coaches, and grant funders observed comprehensive literacy being implemented in my classroom throughout the year.

In addition to being a resource for educators outside of the district, I've had the privilege of training teachers within my district. I was fortunate to have been selected to attend The Teacher's College Reading and Writing Project at Columbia University. The knowledge I gained while attending the institute helped me to support other K-3 teachers in the implementation of Writer's Workshop.

I look forward to meeting with you to discuss opportunities at eNG Charter for the 2013-2014 school year. I hope to hear from you in the near future. Thank you, in advance, for your time and consideration.

Respectfully,

Patricia Gandolfo

Naomi Rodriguez

Education for New Generations Charter School
12 Village Drive
Schwenksville, PA 19473

Dear Ms. Naomi Rodriguez,

As a graduate of East Stroudsburg University, I am interested in applying for the teacher position at the Education for New Generations Charter School. I received a bachelor's of science degree on May 7, 2011. I am especially interested in becoming a teacher because I want to give students the knowledge of tomorrow. I want to be the teacher who inspires students to do their best and strive for their best. Back when I was in grade school I can remember teachers who inspired me to do my best and go for my dreams. I pursued my dreams and I am pursuing them now as I prepare to graduate.

In the field of education, I have had many great experiences with children. I was a camp counselor, I have babysat children from the ages of one year and up since I was fifteen years old, I worked for the Bucks County Intermediate Unit # 22 in the summers of 2010-2012. I worked as an Instructional Assistant in a Multi-Disabilities Support class. Also, I have substituted in schools in Upper Bucks County for the Intermediate Unit. I substituted in autistic support, learning support, multiple disabilities support, and emotional and behavioral support. I am currently working in the Life Skills class as an Instructional Assistant at Pine Road Elementary School in Lower Moreland Township School District.

On a personal level, I am excellent at time management and being prepared, and I take leadership in a classroom to get the duties done for the students. My academic background is solid and my cumulative GPA is 3.568. I am good at collaborating with teachers and other professionals, I will take theories I learned in my classes at East Stroudsburg University and my experiences in student teaching and work to your school.

If you would like any additional information such as references I would be glad to help you. I am looking forward to being a teacher in our constantly changing and technological society. If you would like to contact me to schedule an interview appointment, I can be reached at cell 215-353-3620 or e-mail jly8564@live.esu.edu. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ms. Naomi Rodriguez
Education for New Generations Charter School

Dear Ms. Naomi Rodriguez,

I wanted to express my interest in interviewing for a position at Education for New Generations Charter School. My aunt, Kimberly D. Boyd, principal of Skippack Elementary, recommended that I forward you my resume. After reviewing the mission, philosophy, and responsibilities of your school, I believe I would be a great asset to your community.

My teaching experiences have allowed me to work with students of various ages and backgrounds. In my student teaching at Honey Brooke Elementary, I worked with an intermediate multi-age third/fourth grade class which allowed me to experience and develop my skills in a full inclusion classroom. Teaching in this classroom enabled me to learn how to differentiate and accommodate on a daily basis to meet every students' needs. I also have had experience as a special education aide in a second-grade inclusionary classroom at Schwenksville Elementary School in the Perkiomen Valley School District. My role allowed me to co-teach, work in small groups, and support individual students. Prior experiences have also allowed me to develop competency with technological devices in support of instruction. Incorporating SMART boards, Promethean Boards, document cameras, and computers into lesson delivery engages students in the learning process.

Currently, I am a Kindergarten Teacher at Saint Peter's School in Reading, Pennsylvania. Saint Peter's School is an inner-city, multicultural school. I have established a learning environment that fosters the students' emotional, intellectual, social, and creative strengths. Most students are bilingual with English as the second language. Providing differentiated learning experiences is essential to instruction and is evidenced in the structure of my classroom. The curricula used includes Houghton Mifflin Reading, Sadlier-Oxford Progress in Math, Sadlier Phonics, Universal Publishing Handwriting, and Herff Jones | Nystrom Exploring Where and Why. Communicating and collaborating with parents, colleagues, and students is essential to supporting the social, emotional, and academic growth for every student. My classroom represents an environment where students are a community of learners.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any additional information beyond the enclosed materials. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Jessica Swier
